

National Roofing Contractors Association (NRCA)

Since 1886, NRCA has been the home for generations of entrepreneurial craftsmen who shelter and protect America's families and businesses. NRCA is one of the construction industry's oldest and most respected trade associations and the leading authority in the roofing industry for information, education, technical assistance, advocacy, publications, programs and support.

Companies that are NRCA members demonstrate a commitment to quality and professionalism.

NRCA wants to assist you in getting the kind of results you expect—a quality roof system at a fair price. Not all contractors are alike; before you spend your money, spend time learning how to evaluate roofing contractors and the workers who will be installing or repairing your roof system. NRCA's goal is for you to get the job done right the first time. You can visit everybodyneedsarroof.com for more information and to find NRCA professional roofing contractors in your area.

NRCA ProCertification®

NRCA ProCertification is the association's national certification program for roofing workers. Those who have achieved NRCA ProCertified status know what they are doing. They have passed a comprehensive knowledge exam addressing the roof system in which they are certified and a hands-on performance exam where they demonstrated their installation skills while following industry safety standards. Both exams were developed in accordance with rigorous national certification standards. NRCA ProCertified installers must renew their certifications every three years.

Why choose a roofing contractor with an NRCA ProCertified roofing workforce?

- Precision roof system installation and accuracy
- Higher levels of on-the-job safety
- Increased levels of worker competency and confidence
- Expertise and skills independently validated by NRCA testing

The NRCA ProCertified foreman certification is based on four essential performance pillars for foremen: safety, quality, productivity and customer service. NRCA ProCertified foremen have the experience and working knowledge of the designated roof system to make sure the job is done correctly and safely.

NRCA ProCertified installers and foremen are nationally recognized for their achievements. Consumers can verify NRCA ProCertified workers' credentials by clicking on their digital badges or scanning the QR codes located on their photo ID cards.

When you choose a company with NRCA ProCertified workers, you are choosing to work with a company that is dedicated to quality, safety and professionalism.
